

Sidi introduces XPower and XPower Lei, the new Off-Road boots

Lightweight, comfortable, protective: ready for adventure.

The XPower and XPower Lei join the Sidi family of Off-road motorbike boots. Worthy successors to the X-3 and X-3 Lei, they do not compromise on comfort and safety, and while paying special attention to the foot and ankle, they protect the shin from possible shocks by means of the boot guard with anti-slip and anti-heat rubber insert.

These new boots are made of waterproof Techno Micro fabric and have a soft lining to ensure maximum wearability, whereas the tongue and rear joint are made of thermoformed microfibre, a reliable material that gives the footwear durability and high comfort.

Four replaceable micrometric levers, equipped with adjustment memory and toothed strap, help close the footwear correctly, and the ankle houses the flexibility control system - Flex System. This system, common to all the boots of the Treviso-based company, limits flexion through a mechanism inside the joint and is equipped with a shaped plastic to increase safety and reduce rear movement.

To maximise sensitivity on the bike, the inner part of the boots has a smooth surface for renewed contact and optimum grip with the bike.

X-Power and X Power Lei are the perfect companions for Off-road adventures thanks to their combination of lightness and robustness. Available colours: black, grey, blue, and red.

Media note | ATCommunication
Patrizia Falchero
+39 0423 301291 / +39 349 6884664
patrizia@atcommunication.it