Tudor Pro Cycling Team will be at the start of the 80th Tour de Pologne

Fabian Cancellara's team closes the 2023 wild card list for the week-long Polish UCI World Tour race

The Tour de Pologne UCI World Tour is opening up to new horizons with a special invitation to the Tudor Pro Cycling Team, the newborn team mentored by champion Fabian Cancellara.

"We are particularly pleased to announce this team's participation," explains Czeslaw Lang, race director of the Tour de Pologne. "We are always very attentive to projects that are born with a clear and important objective. In cycling which is so performance-oriented, both the human side and growth play a special role in the training athletes. This team has a mission that fits this need very well. I am impressed by the willpower of these athletes who have already shown that they can compete among the big boys, and I am happy to give them another chance to show their skills."

The team emblematically represents the claim of the famous Swiss brand, Tudor, #BornToDare, combining innovation with the unparalleled vision of a champion like Fabian Cancellara. At the heart of this project is a person-centered and challenging approach to cycling. A team motivated by the desire to surpass themselves every day, facing their fears to push themselves beyond their limits.

"We are really proud and happy to be able to ride the Tour de Pologne this year." commented Fabian Cancellara. "It's always a worldclass field lining up at the start line. We hope to play our part in the race and to return the organisation's trust with some daring performances."

The athletes are therefore preparing for an adrenaline fueled week and new challenges starting on July 29th in Poznan and concluding in the famous setting of Krakow on August 4th.
