

Teosport at Colombiatex to present Italian craftsmanship and technology dedicated to cycling

An important opportunity to sanction new international partnerships

From 23 to 25 January, Medellin will become the capital of fashion and accessories. Teosport will be in Colombia for Colombiatex to present Italian craftsmanship and technology dedicated to cycling.

Colombiatex de las Américas brings together national and international exhibitors of textiles, leather goods, stylists, clothing and footwear. This sector, which is becoming increasingly international, is growing steadily in the country and is ready to develop interesting partnerships with the most important fashion manufacturers, including sportswear.

For Teosport, this will be another opportunity to meet the main overseas distributors and export the culture of handmade products.

Moreover, Italy is one of Colombia's top ten export countries, and this will be another opportunity for the company to offer local manufacturers innovative products that combine high quality and technological development.

For Teosport it is fundamental to be present at the most important trade fair in the sector for Latin America. The company's vocation is to look to the future, and the Colombian market offers many opportunities for a company like ours.

The date to visit is from 23rd to 25th January 2024 at the Plaza Mayor in Medellin.
