

In celebration of PISSEI'S successes, we present The Pink Teosport Pad

The celebratory edition of the TruFlo AirLight pad, developed in collaboration with our customer and corporate sponsor UAE Team Emirates—the team that won the 2024 Giro d'Italia with Tadej Pogačar—draws inspiration from the enduring spirit and allure of timeless actions.

The celebratory edition of the TruFlo AirLight cycling pad

During the month when the whole of Italy is tinted pink, TeoSport, in collaboration with PISSEI, is proud to present the dedicated UAE Team Emirates backdrop in Rome, celebrating the successes and the most intense moments of the last three weeks, during which the two Italian companies have been in the international spotlight.

Strength, tenacity, talent: these are the key words of the new "Pink" pad, which evokes the epic atmospheres that cycling has accustomed us to experiencing day after day. A succession of shots, adrenaline, class and spectacular actions that celebrate the sport in all its glory, in a pink affair that mixes heart and performance.

In this sense, TeoSport and PISSEI sign a new alliance under the banner of technology and passion, demonstrating how design, materials and performance come together in racing perfectly.

"The emotions we have experienced in the last few days are indescribable," said Daniela Osellame. "We could not be prouder to be at the side of PISSEI, which has achieved such an important result in the history of world cycling. We have to remember that if today it seems like a victory, tomorrow it will be part of the legend. The new pad is something special for our company, it shows how close TeoSport is to athletes and their desire to go beyond themselves, to talent but also to team spirit. It is our reminder to always give our best: for them, for us, for those who love sport".

Dedicated to the Rome stage, the TruFlo Air Light pad combines all the main characteristics that make TeoSport a leading Italian company in this field. Light, ergonomic, breathable and innovative, this product combines a vertically striped ESF fabric base with a light, supportive foam. The independent insert is attached to the base with a special three-point stitching. This solution increases ventilation and offers ultra-fast drying. It also allows the double pad to move in perfect synchrony with the cyclist, supporting every movement smoothly and continuously. The part that remains in contact with the skin has very little volume, but still guarantees the correct anatomy thanks to the shaping of the side tabs.

Created for those who leave nothing to chance and ride with both intuition and daring, this special pad is a true celebration of creativity, dedicated to those who blend talent with a touch of madness.