

The shoes designed in collaboration with Team Visma-Lease a Bike, combine excellence and innovation, at the intersection of two worlds.

Florence, cradle of the Renaissance, is the backdrop for the launch of a Limited Edition created by Nimbl and Team Visma-Lease a Bike. Just as Caterina de' Medici strengthened the bridge of culture and charm between France and Florence by marrying Henry of Valois, who later became king in 1547, nearly five hundred years later it is cycling that reconnects the historic link between Florence and France. The unparalleled event is the Grand Départ of the Tour de France. In fact, on June 29 in Florence, Team Visma-Lease a Bike will be at the start with a look completely dedicated to the Renaissance.

It is a limited edition resulting from the collaboration between the Italian brand and the Dutch team. A design that recalls the bold elegance of that magnificent century. The Ultimate Exceed Fleur de Lis feature distinctive traits such as the iconic “fleur-de-lis” on the upper and subtle decorations to recall the era and to mark the exchanges between the two worlds.

Reminiscent of classic atmospheres, the details are essential suited to a clean style that has always been peculiar to this shoes' philosophy.

The technological pedigree of the Ultimate Exceed is developed on the quality standards of authentic Italian craftsmanship. Made to revolutionize the concept of power transmission, it adapts perfectly to the foot and is designed to ensure the optimal position while pedaling. Lightweight and fast, they are distinguished by the unmistakable monocoque sole for an unprecedented fit.

Team Visma-Lease a Bike will wear the new Limited Edition for all three weeks of the Grande Boucle, finding in this product the key virtues that make it excellent: impeccable fit and outstanding power transfer. The Ultimate Exceed is preparing to write a new chapter in sports history again.
