

Barista Attitude is ready to fascinate Paris with Pilot, the machine created to be the brand's first single boiler. At the Paris Coffee Show also Faro, the high-precision coffee grinder.

In Paris, the coffee ritual becomes a real... attitude. The Italian brand dedicated to Specialty Coffee lands in the fashion capital for a three-day event dedicated to espresso of the highest level. From 7 to 9 September Barista Attitude will be at the Paris Coffee Show with two excellences from its range.

The public visiting the Parc Floral will be able to admire Pilot, the machine designed to guide the professional towards an excellent coffee, extracted in an easy and intuitive way. Dedicated to those who are just beginning their journey as baristas and want to interface with an instrument of the highest quality but at the same time formative in its use, this product offers great safety and control.

The main feature, which distinguishes Pilot from all other single boiler machines, is the exclusive setting of the Pre-infusion parameters.

In fact, the machine allows you to set them wetting and infusion times.

The wetting time allows you to set how long the water should wet the coffee, while the infusion time allows you to decide how long the brewed water should remain in contact with the coffee.

This important feature allows you to have personalised extractions according to the different coffees used, so that you can achieve the result you are looking for in the cup.

The two options can be set for each dose, for each group, and can be easily copied from one group to another.

It is a very useful solution for those who want to control the extraction parameters easily and effectively.

The Pilot is also equipped with the Barista Attitude cool touch wands. The Dry system and the high ergonomics of the wands guarantee a perfect result in milk-based drinks, preserving taste and quality.

Alongside Pilot, the Faro will be in action over the three days - a coffee grinder that guarantees consistency and precision through its intelligent weighing system. The Double Clump Crusher ensures that the grind is always uniform, solving any channelling problems once and for all. The touch screen with user profiles offers maximum security for the parameters, which cannot be changed and are protected by a password. Another advantage of this exceptional product is that it is completely silent, thanks to the soundproofing that guarantees peace and quiet at all times of the day.

Barista Attitude therefore invites you to come to stand F17 – F20 in Hall Pinede 3 for a sensory and professional - journey that involves all the senses, where technology and form enhance the bonding power of tasting an espresso.
